

Inclusive Education is a Plus For Differences

Inclusion through animals

At present in our school there isn't a Pet therapy project, anyway younger students visit a farm where they can approach different animals and they can have a lesson with them.

Students feel happy when they approach animals and they become more confident and friendly.

